Girl Reserve Fair
On Saturday afternoon, December 8th the annual fair of the Girl Reserves was held at the William Bingham Gymnasium. Booths gaily decorated in red and green, a real Santa in a sleigh distributing ten and five cent gifts, a candy table in a triangle of green, a gaily decorated Japanese table, and a booth containing specimens of the work done by the Home Economics department, indicated only a small part of the interest and cooperation shown by the girls in preparing this festival. The food table, hot dog stand and fancy work table were also liberally patronized. Only small contributions were requested from any one student and the girls are very happy to announce that the proceeds will net them about sixty-five dollars, which will be used to send delegates to Camp Magna in the summer. To the boys who so willingly secured trees for the decorations and wreaths, and who also assisted in securing chairs and tables for the dance and to the friends of the school, who by their presence and purchases made this Fair such a pleasant occasion, the Girl Reserves wish to extend their gratitude.

The Pundits met Wednesday night with eighteen members present. The secretary read his report and the roll was called. The author for discussion at this meeting was Joseph Hargreaves, a man who writes very interesting stories which can be understood by all classes. Several of his books, which have met with eminent success, were spoken of and a few members had read his book, "Quiet Cities," which deals with the life in nine American cities as it was some years ago. The books which were sent for after the preceding meeting had arrived. It was decided to read "Beau Geste," by P. C. Wren.

Airplane Under Construction

Cabin Monoplane Being Built at Local Garage.
An event of unusual interest to many Bethel people the past few weeks has been the construction of an airplane which is taking place at Crockett's Garage.
The plane, which is being built by Carmelo Onofrio of Salem, Mass., and his brother, Angelo, is a monoplane of the cabin type, with high wings. It has a wing spread of 26 feet, 6 inches, and the length over all is 20 feet. The power will be furnished by a converted Henderson four cylinder engine, geared to a six foot propeller. This engine is the same as is used in the Heath "parasol" plane.
The work throughout follows original plans and designs and all construction including the propeller are the work of Mr. Onofrio. He has spent much time in the study of airplane construction and in making his plans and the work shows considerable ingenuity and painstaking in the smaller details. The landing gear is made for use on snow or ice and it is expected a trial will be made this winter.
The Onofrios came here last spring on road work with the Hinsons. This fall they brought the fuselage, which they had already assembled at Salem, and other parts, to Bethel where the work has since been carried on.

MAINE SOCIETY DINNER

Dr. and Mrs. William Rogers Chapman were guests of honor at the Maine Society dinner at the Hotel Astor, New York, on Wednesday evening, December 12th, which is one of the big annual dinners in New York. This society is one of the largest in America.

Among the speakers were General Herbert Mayhew Lord, Director of the Bureau of the Budget, Dr. Franklin Winslow Johnson, President Elect of Colby College, Dr. William R. Chapman, Director-in-Chief of the Maine Musical Festivals, Mrs. Albert W. Combs, President of the Maine Women's Club of New York, and Hon. Walter H. White, Jr., U. S. Congressman from Maine.

Dr. Chapman spoke on the "Golden Age of Music" as he had experienced it in his work in New York and New England, since the year of 1904 to the present day. Mrs. Chapman spoke briefly, closing her remarks with her wonderful little poem, "Down in Maine," which has been so popular and set to music by Dr. Chapman. The poem is as follows:

DOWN IN MAINE
Seems to me the sun shines brighter,
Seems to me the snow is whiter,
Seems to me that rare grows lighter,
Down in Maine.

Seems to me the water's purer,
Seems to me the clouds are fewer,
Seems to me all life is truer,
Down in Maine.

Seems to me the skies are clearer,
Seems to me the friends are dearer,
Seems to me that Heaven's nearer,
Down in Maine.

BERLIN HERE THURSDAY

The biggest game of the season will be played on the Gould Academy floor Thursday at 8 P. M. Berlin, as usual, comes to Bethel with an exceptionally strong team which has already won three or four games. They have a pair of dangerous men in Hickey and Agrodina.

Gould Academy annexed its third victory last week, thus bringing together two undefeated teams. The local team will be keyed for this game as they are determined to win over an old enemy and a real game of basketball will be assured.

The game Thursday will be refereed by Mr. Perkins of Bowdoin, who proved himself to be one of the finest officials seen for some time in this section of the state. He handled the game last week with ease and seemed to be all over the floor and still not conspicuous in the way of players. He kept the game under his control at all times and it was a pleasure to see how closely he watched all fouling. He undoubtedly will keep the game Thursday clean and fast.

As there are no movies or dances on this date a record breaking attendance is anticipated. A large delegation will be down from Berlin as well as the neighboring towns of Bryant Pond and West Paris. Come out and help Gould Academy fight Berlin.
Henry Davis Nodig and his "Gloom Chasers" will entertain between halves and after the game.

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION HEARING AT NORWAY

Messrs. Smith, Murray and Clifford of the State Highway Commission were in Norway, Thursday, to attend a meeting held at the grange hall, relative to the laying out of a State highway, connecting Norway with the western part of Oxford County. There are two routes, one to Harrison by way of the "twin bridges" and the other through Waterford Flat to South Waterford, and on to Harrison by the so-called lower road, under Bear Mountain.

Petitioners were present, a favoring both ways. Two hundred and fifty people were present from fifteen towns including Norway, Paris, Otisfield, Harrison, Bridgton, Fryeburg, Bethel, Somer, Lovell, Hiram, Denmark, Stone, Norway, Naples and Holbrook's Mills. The friendly spirit manifested was highly commended by the Commission, who voiced the sentiment of all that it was a fine meeting. The Norway Farmer's Union, that perhaps travels over the road as much as any other one concern, averaging from two to four trips a day with a truck load of grain, trucking some 600 tons during the year, is one of the concerns anxious to see the State Highway put through by one route or the other.

There are many boys and girls camps on the shore of Bear Pond, and this was one of the arguments brought forward by the members of the Commission. The boys were guests at the Kiwanis dinner, which was served at grange hall, and some 30 Kiwanians were seated at the table. Hon. Clyde H. Smith, chairman of the commission, was the speaker of the day.

A definite schedule has been made out, which will be adhered to as closely as possible. It brings the team to Montreal on the 14th. A different route on the return brings it back to Gorham on Jan. 27, and to Lewiston and Auburn on Feb. 2.

Walker's Mill at North Newry Destroyed

Skower and Candy Stick Factory Burned Last Week Wednesday

The wood working mill of Percy Walker at North Newry was destroyed by fire on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 12. When discovered about four o'clock the entire second floor was ablaze. By hard work, the saw mill, some twenty feet distant, was saved, but the mill proper and the machinery are almost a total loss.

The mill was situated on the farm bought by Mr. Walker from Elt Stearns of Bethel several years ago, and used hard wood of all kinds in the manufacture of skowers and candy sticks. Some twelve or fifteen men and several women were employed in the mill, besides a woods crew.

The cause of the fire is not known. Mr. Walker makes no estimate of his loss, which is partially covered by insurance. No definite plans for rebuilding are announced.

BARN BURNED AT SKILLINGTON

Fire was discovered at the farm buildings of A. C. Adams near Skillington, early Friday morning, by a neighbor. Mr. Adams, who lives at West Bethel, was at once reached by telephone, but when he arrived, the barn was practically destroyed. The house which is situated a short distance from the barn, was not burned owing to the roof being covered with snow and the wind blowing in the opposite direction.

The cause of the fire is not known. No one has been living at the Adams' farm for some time. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

CHRISTMAS HEALTH SEAL SALE ENDORSED BY LEADERS

Work Accomplished Through Seal Sale Funds Approved

Splendid endorsements have been given to the Christmas Health Seal Sale, which is in progress in all sections of Maine, by various leaders of organizations throughout the world.
Miss Ellen Libby Eastman, President of the Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs of Maine made this statement recently to Mrs. Alice McDouglrick, Field Secretary, "The Maine Public Health Association is one of the most valuable assets of the state and its activities should have the support of everyone. I am looking forward to the day when our very small rural communities can be active participants in a much broader public health service. I realize that the success of the sale of seals is vital to the continuance of our public health program and I am trusting that the results will warrant a continuation and enlargement of the work."

The Maine Federation of Women's Clubs, through its president, Mrs. Josephine T. Skelfield of Portland, heartily endorses the sale and makes a very definite appeal for all club women to support public health work in Maine. Mrs. Skelfield's recommendation is as follows: "The Annual Sale of the Christmas Seal, that public messenger of Good Will, now being conducted under the auspices of the Maine Public Health Association, comes to us this year with renewed force, in the pictured slip riding successfully the waves of sorrow, illness and despair, leading aloft the flag of the Deaf-Blind-Deaf and carrying Christmas greetings for 1928. This faithful little reminder at the minimum rate of purchase, makes possible to every man, woman and child of average circumstances, the opportunity to help in the maintenance of public health work, the financing of tuberculosis and dental clinics, the work of the Child Health Education Director and all activities in the field of organized health work in our state. Let us as Club Women, unite in an effort to make 1928 memorable in the annals of the Public Health work in Maine, by universally supporting the same."

Miss Alice Ballard, teacher at the Primary School, has given to her home in Fryeburg for the Christmas vacation.

THE OLD FOLKS' PRAYER AT XMAS

Children come home though it inconvenient.
Come to the old folks and the scenes
Where the aged ones now bent and gray
Gave you their strength in a bygone day.
Cheer them not with rich gifts from the mart
But with your love from a strong young heart.
For the goods of the earth they have
Renounced to crave.
It is their children, young and brave
That they never forget in their hours
Of care
And never leave out of their evening prayer.
Give them one day of family cheer
For they gave to you full many a year.
Geo. A. Tirrell.

FRANK P. MCKENNEY
Frank P. McKenney passed away Tuesday evening, Dec. 11, after an illness of long duration. Mr. McKenney suffered a paralytic shock five years ago last May which paralyzed his left side, but during the summer months he had ridden on his R. F. D. route and delivered the mail with an assistant until this season, when he suffered another shock. He retired from service in July and received a pension. The third and final shock came Saturday morning, from which he never rallied.
He was the son of William and Mary (Bessey) McKenney and was born in Paris July 21, 1861. He was the last of a family of nine children.
He married Mary L. Lurvey of West Paris, who passed away about eighteen years ago. Two children were born of this union, Margie, wife of Vernon Ellingwood of Auburn, and Wirt S. McKenney of Melrose, Mass., who has held a responsible position in the office of a Boston firm for several years. He is also survived by four grandchildren, Stanley and Irvin Ellingwood, and Gordon and Madeline McKenney. A grand daughter, Louise Ellingwood, passed away two years ago.
During the past five years Mr. McKenney has been faithfully cared for in the home of Miss Mabel E. Ricker, where the funeral service was held. Rev. H. F. Aldrich of Winthrop officiated. Granite Lodge, F. & A. M., attended in a body, but did not perform the burial service. The interment was in the family lot in West Paris cemetery. His son and daughter were with him during his final illness.

WHAT IT COSTS TO GOVERN US

By PROF. M. H. HUNTER
Dept. of Economics, Univ. of Illinois

The Federal Tax on Corporations

CORPORATIONS now pay large sums into the federal treasury. For many years such organizations were regarded as a source of revenue solely for state and local purposes. In 1909, however, congress passed a law which provided that corporations should be subject to a special excise tax of 1 per cent of the net income in excess of $5,000. The tax was designated an excise tax rather than an income tax in order to avoid the constitutional objections to a direct tax.

The need for revenue to finance the World War was responsible for more emphasis on the corporation tax. In 1910 the tax was raised to 2 per cent, and in 1917 an additional 4 per cent was added, making the total 6 per cent. In 1919 the rate was increased to 12 per cent. In 1921 the tax was placed at 12½ per cent of the net income, while at present it is 33½ per cent. An exemption of $2,000 is allowed from the taxable income unless the total net income reaches $25,000, when no exemption is allowed.

The law recognizes the fact that the tax on income of a corporation will be reflected in lower dividends. Individuals are not required to pay the normal income tax rates on receipts composed of corporate dividends. The maximum normal rate is 5 per cent, so there is a difference of 8½ per cent between the tax paid by the corporation and the exemption allowed the recipient of dividends. Many recipients of dividends may have incomes sufficiently small as to be subject to but 1½ per cent or 3 per cent normal tax. These conditions would make a difference of more than 8½ per cent. This feature of the law has been the basis of much criticism, as it is pointed out that the tax burden is much heavier upon the owners of a corporation than upon the owners of a partnership.

During the World War the federal government imposed a tax upon the transfer of shares corporate stock. This has been continued and is similar to the New York state stock transfer tax of $0.02 on each $100 share or fraction thereof. If the shares have no face value, the tax is $0.02 on each share, unless the market value is more than $100, when the tax is $0.02 on each $100 or fraction thereof.

As a war measure, also, an annual excise tax was levied upon the capital stock of corporations. The rate was $1 upon each $1,000 of capital stock in excess of $5,000. This tax was repealed in 1920 to compensate for the increase in rate upon the net income.

Ain't It the Truth?

Some people seem to feel bound to discover family resemblances between children and their parents.

"How much like you your little girl is," Mrs. Brown, remarked an acquaintance who met them on the street one afternoon.

"How odd that you should think so," replied Mrs. Brown. "She's my first husband's child by his first wife."

"Indeed! At all events I don't think I'm wrong in saying your little boy is the image of Mr. Brown."

"He's my son by my first husband, Mr. Green!"

"Ah, yes. Well, good afternoon, Mrs. Brown."

Dahlia of Mexican Origin

Dahlia history commences in 1701, when Cavendish, the director of the Botanic garden at Madrid, Spain, described the flowering of a set of dahlia roots received in 1759 from Vicente Cervantes of Mexico. Dahlia first reached England in 1769 through the agency of the marchioness of Eute. This had little effect on the history of the plant, however, as all these plants perished from a lack of proper understanding of their needs. They were reintroduced successfully in 1841, through the interest of Lady Holland.

They Usually Are

"Are the children all that?" asked father as he sat down to breakfast. "How can they help but be, being brought up by their mother."

GOULD TRIMS BRIDGTON

Quite a large crowd saw the Gould boys haul Bridgton High into camp here last Friday night. It was a very interesting game but was frequented with fouls.

The game started out slow with both teams presenting a fine defensive style of play. Finally "Hank" Tise made a field goal on a nice pass.

The second quarter the local players found themselves and played as fine a brand of basketball as has been witnessed for some time. They crashed through the Bridgton defense at will, for nice shots. Three baskets were scored in less than a minute. The ball was in possession of the Gould team perhaps 80% of the period.

The third quarter proved to be much more closely contested. Gould located and one each by Tise and Alger for eight points. Bridgton connected for three field goals and one free throw for seven points.

In the fourth quarter Coach Anderson sent in reserve material and it seemed to spur the Bridgton men into some better basketball. They rapidly began overtaking the locals. A poorly played stall game by Gould gave Bridgton a chance to connect for four more baskets. They also scored six free throws out of seven attempts, making 14 points in the closing quarter. The Gould team, finding themselves nearly overtaken, took the offensive again and easily scored four more points to bring the total to 29. Had the local team played the type of stall game which it should have, the score would have been a rather one sided affair. As it was the Gould team scored its points on Bridgton's misplays rather than any fine floor work on their part.

THE RUBINSTEIN CLUB

The Rubinstein Club of New York, Mrs. William Rogers Chapman, President, opened its forty-second season on Tuesday evening, December 11th, before a most brilliant audience in the Grand Ball Room of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. Dr. William R. Chapman received an ovation, as he took his place at the Conductor's stand. It is needless to say that the famous Club sang more wonderfully than ever. Dr. Chapman conducted with his old time enthusiasm, for Richard was himself again after his long illness.

The programme was most interesting, as many new compositions were rendered for the first time, among them the American Ode, by Richard Knott, and the Russian Songs by Tschalkowsky. Many encores were demanded. This Choral Society has been under Dr. Chapman's direction during its entire forty-two years, which is a record for New York. Much interest was centered around the soloist of the evening, Miss Emma Otero, Cuban Coloratura Soprano, a protégée of His Excellency, the General Gerardo Machado, President of the Cuban Republic. Mr. Beniamino Gigli, the great tenor of the Metropolitan Opera House, after hearing her sing in Cuba not long ago, brought her to New York to study with Mr. Rosati. Her numbers on the programme were as follows: Aria, "Ombra Leggera" by Meyerbeer, La Calançula, by Donizetti, and La Zingara, by Jonelli. She created a furor second to no Metropolitan debutante. General Machado was so much interested in her debut, that he and his staff came from Cuba to be present, and his box was decorated with the Cuban flag, and Mr. Gigli's box with the Italian flag, as Mr. Gigli and prominent members of the Metropolitan Opera were present.

During the intermission, Mrs. Chapman arranged for a flash-light picture to be taken of the Club and Soloist, and the world famous tenor, Mr. Beniamino Gigli, on the stage. Altogether it was an evening never to be forgotten, for brilliancy of audience, and marvelous work for Soloist and Chorus.—N. Y. Telegraph.
